A SOVIET-JAPANESE UNDER- STANDING?

RUMOURS IN PEKING OF SECRET ARRANGEMENT.
MR. RODNEY GILBERT DISCOUNT-
ENANCES THE REPORT.

Ever since the Japanese were able to disassociate themselves from the anti-British boycott in the summer of 1925, there has been much loose gossip about an understanding between the Japanese authorities and the Red directors of the Nationalist movement, writes Mr. Rodney Gilbert in a message to the N.C. Daily News from Peking, dated December 10th. This was not taken seriously by sober-minded persons. It was assumed that the Japanese were left out of the anti-foreign agitation for the same reason that the Americans, French and others were, namely because Moscow found it politic to focus China's hostility upon one nation at a time and because she had special reasons for making Great Britain the target of the moment. It was argued further that Japan had too many domestic reasons for keeping Russia at arm's length to enter into any compromising covenants with the Reds.

Fresh Tide of Rumour.

During the past few weeks, however, a fresh tide of rumour has swept over this community, beginning with the talk of a Red concentration on the Manchurian frontier and leading up to quotations from an alleged document, said to be a secret treaty between Soviet Russia and Japan. These stories come from so many responsible sources that it is time they had a public airing if only for the purpose of stimulating inquiry in Japan and of laying a persistent spectre.

First of all, it is now fairly certain that the rumour of a Red invasion of the Chinese Eastern Railway zone was spread by the "Bolshevik agents themselves." It is confessedly a scheme to divert Chang Tso Lin's attention and, during the past ten days, has had something of that effect. It is known now, however, through reliable communications from Harbin that orders have come from Moscow to the Far East to put an end to this propaganda and to menacing movements of troops, for the time being, in view of the recent understanding with Japan, so that Japan may not be suspicious of Russia's good faith. Nothing more is to be done until General Lasevitch, new Russian Vice-director of the C.E.R. assumes office. This, it may be remarked in passing, is the only reliable corroboration of the existence of the much quoted Soviet-Japanese agreement.

Supposed Terms of Agreement.

The following are supposed to be some of the terms of the agreement.
Vladivostok is to be opened as a free port for Japan only.
Russia agrees to the commercial development of Possiet Bay by the Japanese.
All facilities are to be given Japan for the purchase and export of raw materials, ores being specifically mentioned, from eastern Siberia and the import of manufactured articles.
Russia pledges herself to carry on no Communist propaganda in Japan or in Japan's continental territories or spheres of influence. As evidence of good faith Russia is to supply Japan with a list of the names of all Japanese in correspondence with the communist party in Russia.

Japan accedes to unmoisted Russian control of Mongolia.

The agreement takes cognizance of the understanding arrived at between the U.S.S.R. and the Nationalists, by virtue of which Soviet Russia is eventually to be granted the same degree of control over the Chinese Eastern Railway and the railway zone as that formerly enjoyed by the Imperial Russian Government, in exchange for which restored privileges, all loans to the Kuomintang régime, charges for ammunition, military stores and support in other forms, are to be cancelled. Japan concurs in this arrangement.

Japan will join with Russia in securing the ascendancy of the Nationalist Government in China and in securing its recognition internationally as the Government of China.

To further the Nationalist cause, Japan will furnish campaign funds, if required, to a total amount of Yen 50,000,000 Dollars or Roubles (variously quoted), to be expended through Soviet agents for purposes to be specifically agreed upon.

A Strain Upon Ballot.

There is not an item in this fabled agreement which does not put a severe strain upon the writer's credulity. It will undoubtedly impress the reader as a malicious invention, but it is one of those rumours that is seeping into the public mind through many channels and can only be denounced or confirmed by putting it in public print.

CIVILIANS' FLIGHT FROM KASHING.

WHAT MILITARY OCCUPATION
MEANS.
TRADE AND COMMUNICATIONS
SUSPENDED.

First heavy rains followed by steady drizzle has impeded the movements of the Northern soldiers to some extent, says N.C. Daily News correspondent from Kashing. The exodus from the city continues of all civilians who can possibly get away. All coolies and nearly every able bodied man that ventures out, are impressed for military. Women and children with rolls of bedding and such clothing as they can carry are streaming out in all directions. Those who have money, go to Shanghai if they can get standing room on trains. Others take boats for near-by cities and towns. The yet poorer walk to country places through the mud. Nine tenths of the shops and homes have closed their doors.

What is feared increases in the telling: First, the attitude of Northern soldiers. They may if defeated, rob the rich and kill or abuse students and others suspected of sympathy with the South. Kashing gentry, failing to raise as much as expected in money, are departing in various directions. Students are practically all gone. Clerks and workmen are hiding. Country boats do not dare to come within two miles of the city, and discharge their passengers and luggage on canal banks.

Second, if fighting continues in succession from Hangchow towards Shanghai, this city, being on the railway and Grand Canal, will be in the path of all the troubles that follow moving armies.

Third, if the Northern soldiers are successful and capture Hangchow and then try to hold the province, the further reinforcements coming in will likely be exacting to an unknown extent.

Fourth, the railway, already interrupted or only used for soldiers' magazines, is being further reduced to one train per day for passengers to and from Shanghai. There are no trains now for Hangchow, and the railway is reported cut at or near Linping.

Fifth, the absence of authoritative news allows local rumours to distort everything seen, heard or imagined. Here are specimens:—

(a) Northern troops bottled up at Kashing for slaughter.

(b) Northern soldiers prepared to escape by boats if railway is closed.

(c) Northern men will defend Chekiang at first, but be driven out by Canton.

(d) Break down of authority opens way for looting to begin, etc., etc.

CAUTIOUS CHANG TSO LIN.

NOT GOING TO PEKING.

Marshal Chang Tso Lin has postponed his trip to Peking indefinitely, according to latest Tientsin advice, says the Peking and Tientsin Times. Although the radicals are in favour of Marshal Chang taking full control of the Central Administration, General Yang Yu Ting and the moderate members of the Fengtien party strongly advise the old Marshal to remain in Tientsin and devote his attention to the military problem, leaving political affairs as they are for the time being.

Premier Koo is said to have received a telegram from Tientsin urging him to continue and to resume the Cabinet conference by filling all the vacancies with new candidates. The question of the re-organization of the Government is thus shelved temporarily and the Cabinet Ministers are conferring on the question of resumption of duties.

KOWLOON BRITISH SCHOOL PRIZE DAY.

A SUCCESSFUL YEAR REVIEWED.

PUPILS' HEALTH AND WORK SATISFACTORY.

The annual prize-day and exhibition of pupils' work was held at the Kowloon Junior British School yesterday. Among those present were Mrs. R. M. Dyer (who presented the prizes), Mr. E. Ralphs (Inspector of English Schools), Mr. A. E. Wood (Director of Education), Professor L. Forster, the Rev. H. R. Wells, the Rev. J. Horace Johnstone and Captain Shampek (Military Schools).

Mr. Ralphs congratulated both staff and pupils on a fine year of work, especially with regard to the successes in drawing.

A Good Year.

In her report, the Headmistress, Miss M. Cooper, B.A., stated that the attendance had been well maintained. In April 104 pupils were on the roll—the highest recorded attendance.

Mrs. Hower left for New Zealand in January. In the same month Miss Bailey was married and they lost a valuable kindergarten mistress when she resigned in March, in order to return to England. Mrs. Hooper re-joined the staff in April and Mrs. Russell was appointed in Mrs. Hower's place.

On January 27th, H.E. the Governor, accompanied by the Director of Education, visited the school and examined the work done. Mr. Ralphs, Mr. de Martin, Mr. Wells, and Mr. B. Wylie had also visited the school during the year and inspected the work of the classes. Professor Forster took some interesting intelligence tests in Class 7.

In June 27th pupils entered for the Preparatory Examination of the Royal Drawing Society and one pupil, Joan Berry, for Division I. This pupil was awarded honours. Of those taking the Preparatory Section, 13 gained honours. 11 passed and there was only one failure. Last year May Whitehead, a pupil in Class 7, had the distinction of being awarded one of the two special prizes allotted to China by the Royal Drawing Society. Sixteen pupils qualified to pass up to the Central British School on the results of the examination held in December.

In October, Mrs. Minett, the School Medical Officer, examined all the children who had been adversely reported upon on her visit, and found that they had all improved in health. She found also the general health of the pupils good. Thanks were due to the Kowloon Dock for much help given, to Mr. Forsyth for the decorations and to Mr. Lindsay for the use of chairs. The members of the school staff had generously provided the prizes, and to them also their thanks were due.

Miss Cooper concluded by thanking the staff for the work they had done during the year and for their co-operation in everything that concerned the interests of the school.

Prize List.

Mrs. R. M. Dyer distributed prizes to the following successful pupils:
Class 7:—Patricia Parker, (Scholarship and Form Prize); Peter Hancock (French); Joan Laurence, (Progress); Elsie Dove and Margaret Adams (Handwork and Sewing).

Class 8:—Patricia Rundell, (Scholarship and Form Prize); Teddy Malm, (Progress); Joan Langley, (Composition); Marcia Matthews, (History and Geography); Alvena Lihovetsky, (Handwork).

Class 9:—Dickie Branch, Form Prize, (boys); Alice Black, Form Prize (girls); Neville Howe, 1st last term, (boys); Nan Martin, 1st last term, (girls); Ian Kempson, Peter Green, Peggy Tobin, Joan Jennings and Nossie Gillespie, (Progress).

The Entertainment.

The entertainment commenced with a Christmas carol by members of Class 7 and 8, and this was followed by an Irish jig, which was very daintily performed by the Misses Joan Berry and Dorothy Tolan. The kindergarten then sang and acted nursery rhymes, after which a play, entitled "The Dishonest Merchant," was given by members of Class 7. Those taking part were Dorothy Wicheil, Patricia Parker, Elsie Dove, Joan Berry, Betty Green, and Jean Bryson. Another dance "Ella Frolic" was prettily performed by the following:—Fairies, Joan Laurence, Joan Berry, Phyllis Teale, Mary Dixon, N. Docherty and Dorothy Wicheil; elves, Prosper Cummings, Billy Parker, Betty Green, Joan Bryson, Emily Rundell, and Isa Lammer. Other items were "The Christmas Carol," (Class 8); "Popples in the Wheat," (Sweet and Low) and French songs by Classes 7 and 8.

At the conclusion, Mr. E. Ralphs expressed thanks to Mrs. R. M. Dyer, and commented on the good work done by the school, remarking that they were getting better and better every year. After Mrs. Dyer had returned thanks, Miss Olivia Matthews presented her with a bouquet of flowers.

A "WANTED" INDIAN.

ARRESTED IN HONG KONG.

PROTESTS THAT HE IS NOT "A FUGITIVE OFFENDER."

At the Central Magistracy yesterday morning, an Indian named Diwan Mangal Sen was brought before Mr. R. E. Lindsell, when an application for his extradition to India was made against him under the Fugitive Offenders' Act.

Mangal Sen was arrested by Det. Sgt. Elston on the s.s. Talma on a warrant issued by the Punjab Police of Lahore. The crimes alleged against him were "forgery and criminal breach of trust."

Defendant: I left my country in 1925. If I had been a fugitive I would have gone to one of the countries where British interference would not be tolerated, let alone obeyed. I would not be here. I would have gone to Russia or to some other country. The officer will tell you Honour that when he called on me and arrested me, I gave no trouble. I followed him like a tame lion in a circus.

Up to 1925, I was connected for 18 years with the Hindustan Insurance Co. for nineteen years my accounts were passed. There was never any trouble until there were changes on the board of directors. We had serious differences of opinion and I resigned. I went to Peshawar and did some religious work.

His Worship: I am afraid that I am not directly concerned with that.

Defendant: I wanted to inform your Honour that I am not a fugitive offender.

His Worship: What ship was the man on?

Det. Sgt. Elston: The "Talma" with a ticket to Peshawar.

His Worship: There is no doubt that the Government of Punjab has issued a warrant for your arrest.

Defendant: I say that I am not a fugitive offender.

His Worship: You don't seem to understand what a fugitive means.

Det. Sgt. Elston said that he had been instructed to ask for two days' remand in Police custody as the Police had telegraphed the Lahore Police and awaited further instructions.

Defendant asked the Magistrate if he would be allowed to have some books to read.

Mr. Lindsell: I dare say that the Police will arrange that.

Defendant: May I have a stroll occasionally under Police surveillance? It will injure my health to be continually locked up. (Laughter).

MOTOR OFFENCES.

DRUNKEN PASSENGERS.

For allowing ten European passengers in a 7 seater car, a Chinese chauffeur was fined $4, by Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Magistracy yesterday morning. On it being stated that some of the passengers were drunk, the magistrate observed: "I think the passengers should have known better."

NO PROPER CONTROL.

In another case, a Chinese driver was summoned for carrying goods other than hand luggage and for not having proper control of the car.

It was stated that there were three big trunks, some washing, a portmanteau and a basket of miscellaneous goods on the car, and in the driver's seat were three women and three or four ornaments. One of the women's legs was spread over the brake pedal, making it impossible for the driver to have proper control. He was fined $5.

OVERLOADING.

Another case of overloading was that in which a Chinese driver summoned for allowing seven people in a 5-seater car, and for having a boy on his knee, which made it impossible for him to have proper control. A fine of $5 was imposed.

EXCEEDING THE SPEED LIMIT.

A Chinese driver was fined $25 for driving a motor lorry, fitted with solid tyres, at 25 miles an hour, although the speed of the vehicle was limited to 12 miles.

Sergeant Mason said that defendant was speeding along Stubbs Road, and turned the corner at a dangerous speed. The lorry did a certain amount of damage to the road.

For driving his car in a negligent manner, when turning into Queen's Road East from a side street—at which point he collided with Sgt. Baker's motor-cycle—a Chinese driver was fined $10.

HOW HARBIN POLICE LIVE!

$700 FOR SEEING "THE SIGHTS."

The money that the Harbin police make by blackmailing people is known to many, and the following story of one of the latest tricks may be of interest. Says the Shanghai Mercury:—A rich Taingao Polish Jew, proprietor of a restaurant, decided to pay a visit to his home, and last week arrived with his wife in Harbin. If he had proceeded at once by Siberian train all would have been well, but he thought he would spend some days in Harbin and see the "sights." Leaving his wife in a hotel, he went to visit one of these cabarets where the "entertainment" is of kind that need not be described, and here a detective touched him on the shoulder and took him to the police station. No kind of real accusation was made, but the gentleman was informed that he could not leave Harbin unless he paid a sum of 1,000 dollars. The police were fully aware that he had money. As he saw he would be held up for days, he was glad to get away by paying 700 dollars. Several other accidents of a similar nature have lately occurred and there are many complaints about police methods.

BOXING.

EWING SENSATIONALLY
DEFEATS HOWARD.
EDDIE EAGAN IMPRESSES.

HILLS AGAIN TOO GOOD FOR MCMANUS.

At the City Hall Boxing Tournament last night, A.B. Ewing, of H.M.S. Hermes, won the Middleweight Championship of the Colony and the R. M. Dyer Belt, by defeating Stoker Taff Howard, of H.M.S. Hawkins, in the eighth round.

The victory was somewhat sensational. Up to the time he gave in, Howard had won most of the rounds but in the 8th round Ewing sent him to the boards with a crushing right to the jaw. Howard rose, but only to go down again. He then gave in. The fight was furious throughout. Ewing boxed cleverly, and Howard seemed at the outset bent on a knockout. He punished Ewing badly at times, but his aggressiveness only tired himself and he fell an easy victim to his more virile opponent. In the sixth round, Howard was badly shaken and held on to his man. In the seventh he fought well and even had the better of the heavy exchanges. His strength seemed suddenly to desert him in the next round and he went down. He showed improvement on his fight with Francis, but still swung his blows. He also continued to fight on his heels. Ewing was a popular winner.

There was a capacity house. Eddie Eagan, the amateur boxer, forced Stoker Addison, of the Hermes, to withdraw in the fourth round. Eagan made a fine impression. He is fast and has a heavy punch in either hand. Addison had no chance against him.

Marine Hills, of the Hermes, again defeated Corporal McManus, of the Hawkins, and in convincing manner. Stoker Reynolds defeated Stoker Evans after a good fight. Stoker Foxley defeated A.C. Threadingham, and Stoker Morrell was too good for L.S. Gray.

The Big Fight.

In a fifteen-round contest for the middleweight championship of the Colony and Belt (presented by Mr. R. M. Dyer), A.B. Ewing, of H.M.S. Hermes, met Stoker Taff Howard, of H.M.S. Hawkins. Howard had five pounds advantage in weight. Mr. A. Murdoch refereed.

Round 1.—Howard scored with left and right to the face, and Ewing used left leads. Howard was prone to swing, but won the round slightly.

Round 2.—A good round with Howard beginning furiously, but Ewing used neat jabs. Howard got the better of the infighting. Honours even.

Round 3.—Howard scored frequently as the round opened, but before the end Ewing replied vigorously. Howard took a rest sitting on the ropes for eight.

Round 4.—A fast round with Howard going ahead. He swung too much, however. Ewing got home several rights as the round ended.

Round 5.—Ewing was fighting furiously. Howard was erratic. It was Ewing's round.

Round 6.—Howard was warned thrice in this round for holding. Ewing was badly punishing his man and shook him often with heavy rights to the jaw. Howard was groggy as the round ended.

Round 7.—Howard made a great come back in this round. Both men lashed out hard. Ewing seemed over-eager. It was Howard's round.

Round 8.—Howard was floored with a nasty right for a count of nine and rose groggily. He went down again and rising to his feet, gave in.

Ewing had a great ovation. Mr. R. M. Dyer tied the belt around the waist of the winner.

Eagan Forces Addison to Withdraw.
Eddie Eagan, Olympic Games Heavyweight Champion, clashed with Stoker Addison, of H.M.S. Hermes, in a 6-round heavyweight contest. Eagan was eight pounds heavier. Eagan began in whirlwind fashion scoring with left to the face and body. Addison was warned for holding. Throughout Eagan had the advantage and once he crashed a terrific right to the body. The wonder was that Addison did not drop.

Eagan was called up for holding with his right in the second round. Addison scored once or twice but for the most part did his utmost to save his face and body from the terrific punches of his opponent. In the third round there was a paucity of clean blows. Eagan, however, forced the fight all along. In the fourth round Addison was shaken by several left upper-cuts and rights to the jaw and gave in. Eagan was adjudged the winner.

A Fast Bout.

In a six-round bantamweight contest, A. C. Threadingham, of H.M.S. Hermes, 120 lbs., met Stoker Foxley, of H.M.S. Hawkins, 120 lbs.

There was some hard hitting in the first round the exchanges being pretty even. In the second round Threadingham succeeded in landing a few straight jabs, but towards the end, Foxley retaliated with some hard face punches. Foxley went ahead in the third round, landing with both hands repeatedly to the face. Threadingham swung erratically and his defence was pierced time and again. Foxley missed badly several times in the fourth round, and Threadingham scored with a neat left jab. Foxley improved as the round ended.

Very few blows were landed in the fifth round, with points somewhat even. After a good last round, Foxley was adjudged the winner.

A Hard-Hitting Encounter.

Stoker Evans, of H.M.S. Hermes, 145 lbs., met Stoker Reynolds, of H.M.S. Submarines, 145 lbs., in a six-round welterweight contest. Reynolds lashed to the face and body continually throughout the first round. Evans seldom replying. He was, however, not discomfited. Scoring frequently with straight left, Reynolds went far ahead in the second round. Evans hardly scored throughout.

FOOTBALL INTERPORT.
TO-DAY'S TRIAL GAME.

The following players have been chosen to take part in the third trial game this afternoon, for the forthcoming Interport Football Match with Shanghai at Hong Kong. The kick-off, on the H.K.F.C. ground is at 4.30 p.m.

Colours:—Clarke (Police); Wheeler (Kowloon); and Canville (Kowloon); Hudson (Police); Samms (Kowloon); and Lam Yui Ying (China Athletic); Cornwall (Police); Tung King Cheung (South China); Orr (Kowloon); Suen Kam Shun (China Athletic); and Ward (R.A.).
White:—Lau Hing Cheung (South China); Wynne (Police); and Bishop (H.K.F.C.); McKelvie (Kowloon); Futter (R.A.); and Wong Shui Wa (China Athletic); Brittain (Police); Howard (H.K.F.C.); Gosano (Recreation); McClintock (K.O.S.B.'s); and Brown (Recreation).
Referee: Mr. Baldwin.

Evans improved a lot in the third round and had a share of the score. Reynolds, however, continued to fight forcefully. A good fourth round saw Reynolds scoring with right jolts to the face and Evans replying with the left. It was Reynolds' round. Evans used a good left to advantage and followed up with his right many times in the fifth round. Reynolds, however, continued to crash hard rights to the jaw. A fierce last round with Evans landing two hard rights to the jaw, but Reynolds scored in infighting and was declared the winner. Evans put up a splendid fight.

Hill Wins Again.

A six-round featherweight contest was fought between Corporal McManus, of H.M.S. Hawkins, 121 lbs., and Marine Hill, of H.M.S. Hermes, 121 lbs. Hill scored with neat left leads in the first round, but McManus replied with heavy face and body blows. Hill was elusive. Sending his left to the chin and following it up with a swift downward jab, Hill surprised McManus in the second round. McManus threw aside scientific boxing and took to fighting, but Hill proved more than his equal. McManus hit wildly in the third round and Hill went ahead.

In the fourth round most of the attacking was done by Hill. His left was a source of trouble to McManus and once he ran into it and dropped to his knees. McManus got home with few left leads in the fifth round, but Hill scored often. Both men were at it hammer and tongs in the last round but Hill was scoring very often with downward right jabs.

Hill was given the decision, and well deserved it.

A Poor Contest.

Stoker Morrell, of H.M.S. Hawkins, 151 lbs., met L.S. Gray, of H.M.S. Irishmen, 148 lbs., in a six-round middleweight contest. Morrell won the first round. He often got home quick lefts to the jaw. Gray was the most part on the defensive. Conditions were much the same in the second round, but Gray occasionally got home with his left. After wearing down his man with heavy blows to the face, Morrell sent Gray to the boards with a left hook. The gong saved him, but he retired. Morrell was easily superior.

Mr. J. Brooks, the Manager of the H.K.B.A., introduced André Dupré, the French boxer, and said that Dupré was going to Manila where he had booked three fights, but hoped to return to Hong Kong and fight here again.

Dupré will be remembered here as having fought Jim Carillidge on two occasions. Prior to the fight between Ewing and Howard, Stoker Bradbury, of H.M.S. Uihart, challenged the winner.

THIRTY MORE WITNESSES.

IMPOSSIBLE TO FINISH "SUNNING" PIRACY CASE BEFORE CHRISTMAS.

DISCHARGED SEAMEN, SEA-SICK PASSENGER AND PIRATES.

ANOTHER MAN RELEASED.

That the Magistracy proceedings in the Sunning piracy case will not be concluded before Christmas was stated at the conclusion of the hearing at the Central Magistracy yesterday afternoon. It was suggested to Mr. R. E. Lindsell, before whom the case is being heard, that it might be possible for him to arrange to take this case alone, devoting all his time to it, in order that it might be finished before the January Sessions.

There are about thirty more witnesses to call for the Crown. Already 33 witnesses have given evidence during the thirteen days on which the case has been heard.

The case for the Crown was opened on December 3rd, and it will probably only be possible to commit the case to the January Criminal Sessions if late sittings, or all day sittings are held. There will be further hearings tomorrow and Friday, after which the case will be adjourned until after Christmas.

Another accused, the 18th defendant, was discharged at the afternoon hearing, and this now brings the number of accused down to seventeen. The men previously discharged were Nos. 17 and 19.

At the close of the proceedings yesterday Mr. Lindsell asked the Crown Solicitor (Mr. H. K. Holmes) who is conducting the prosecution, whether there was any hope of the case finishing at the Magistracy before Christmas.

Mr. Holmes said he was afraid not. He had to call the quartermasters, one or two men to state what occurred in the engine room, three more passengers, and various officers' boys and stewards, and also other witnesses. In addition to these there would be police-witnesses, some of whose evidence would be fairly long. The C.S.P. would be among the witness called. Police evidence would deal with the search of the ship, etc.

Mr. Lindsell: It looks very much as if we shall not finish it this year.

Further Witnesses.

Mr. Holmes: I am afraid not. I think your Worship I have about 24 more witnesses, some pretty long, others not. Then there is police evidence on top of that.

Mr. M. K. Lo, who is appearing for the sixth and eighth accused and others, enquired whether it would be possible for Mr. Lindsell to arrange to transfer his other cases to another magistrate and devote his whole time to dealing with the Sunning case, either in that Court, or possibly in another building. Otherwise the case might not be finished until after January, as there was certain to be a considerable amount of cross-examination and the accused would be called for the defence.

Mr. Lindsell promised to do what he could, but did not think it would be possible to carry out in its entirety Mr. Lo's suggestion.

Pirates or Not?

At the morning hearing further evidence was given with regard to the nineteen ex-members of the crew of the Chinese steamer Chun On (or Philadelphia), who were discharged at Shanghai, and were returning to this Colony on the Sunning at the time of the piracy. Of the number mentioned, nine were among the eighteen accused who were present at the morning hearing.

Another ex-seaman of the Chun On (one, it will be recalled, gave evidence previously) stated, when asked if he could say whether any of the nine accused referred to took part in the piracy, that they did not.

He bore out the other seaman's evidence, that during the time the ship was in control of the pirates, and until they were driven up on deck by the pirates, the whole of the members of the crew of the Chun On, with the exception of one, who travelled second-class, were with him in the steerage. Witness went on to say that the officers must have been mistaken in identifying No. 7 accused as taking part in the piracy, for this man was sitting beside him all the time. Of the men in Court, witness identified No. 8 accused, and said this man carried a short firearm.

Witness stated with regard to No. 8 that he saw this man, in company with another pirate, come into the steerage armed. After the steerage passengers were driven on deck, witness hid himself under a lifeboat. He heard pirates urging each other to set fire to the quarters amidships.

All Seamen.

Mr. M. K. Lo: Could you swear that all the 19 of you from the Philadelphia were with you continuously in the steerage?—Yes.

Did you notice No. 6 (So Tik Sui)?—I didn't.

If No. 6 were to say that he was at the foot of the staircase in the front part of the steerage when his watch and chain were taken away from him, would you say you did not see him, or would you say he was lying?—I would say I did not see him.

Mr. Lindsell observed that this was a difficult question to put to a Chinese witness.

In further cross-examination by Mr. Lo, witness said that two other shipmates, Nos. 7 and 19 defendants, were also in the steerage with him during the period of the pirates' control of the ship. Not until the following morning did they tell him that they had been robbed. No. 7 had then been tied up by the crew of the Sunning. He told witness that he managed to recover his watch.

His Worship: Did you believe No. 7 when he said he was robbed of his watch?—I accepted his word for what it was worth.

His Worship: Did you or did not in fact believe him?—I believed him.

Do you still believe it now?—Yes.

At this juncture the case was adjourned until the afternoon.

The Case of No. 8.

At the outset of the afternoon proceedings, Mr. Lo, who now represents No. 8 accused, referred to this man's case. He said that according to the story of this man he was travelling second-class with a fellow passenger, a Cantonese. No. 8, in fact, did not leave his cabin. He was sea-sick, and all his meals were served to him in his room, cabin No. 18. Pirates came and searched the room, and succeeded in obtaining $20. They then went away, apparently satisfied. Later a Chinese in a long coat, which he took off, disclosing European clothes underneath, entered in company with another man. The man in the long coat remained in the cabin smoking opium for some time. He lay on the eighth accused's bed, and No. 8 had to curl up in a corner. This man later went out, but returned at intervals and continued to smoke opium. He was visited on occasions by the other man who had first entered with him, and who at one time brought a book, which both perused together. When No. 8 eventually left his cabin he found that the fire had broken out, and he went back, took his money and then hid himself under one of the boats on the poop deck.

Mr. Lo said that through the Japanese interpreter (the No. 8 accused is a Formosan) he had learned that No. 8 said that the man who searched him for money was very much like No. 8 accused, and had a sore finger.

Mr. Lo asked if it was possible to get the boy or steward who served meals to No. 8 in Cabin 18, and whether the whereabouts of this man's fellow Cantonese passenger had been discovered.

Mr. Holmes replied that the Crown had been unable to trace the fellow passenger. Three boys who served the second-class passengers would be called to give evidence.

Tallyman's Story.

A tallyman of the Sunning was called, and identified Nos. 1, 2 and 5 accused. He said he saw No. 1 directing operations in the after house, and supervising the bringing of the money out of the Accountant's room. The man was armed with a rifle. No. 2 accused ransacked various cabins. With regard to No. 5 accused, witness was not positive about him. He saw No. 7 accused being tied up, apparently on suspicion. Witness said that among the men taken into custody by the naval guard a number claimed they were members of a discharged crew. He recognised No. 18 accused as one of the men who claimed to be the member of this crew, and heard this man say that No. 7 was a foki and not a pirate.

The No. 1 accused questioned this witness with regard to what he had stated about him. Witness then further stated that he saw No. 1 accused, who originally had a blue coat and trousers on, change into a Chinese riding jacket and trousers, and long coat.

Deeper into the Mire.

Mr. Lindsell to No. 1 accused, who had been asking several questions: You must realise that your cross-examination is only leading you deeper and deeper into the mire. You want to be careful. You surely do not want to incriminate yourself more! A lot of these things would not have come out if you had not asked questions.

No. 1 accused: I don't care if these things are taken down.

Mr. Lindsell: You want to be incriminated deeper!

At this juncture, Mr. Holmes said that he had no evidence to offer against No. 18 accused. Captain Pringle had spoken of this man, and he (Mr. Holmes) had expected this witness to identify this accused. Witness had pointed him out to the police, but failed to identify him now in Court.

Witness was asked whether he could identify No. 18 accused, and said that although he pointed him out to the police he could not now recognise him as a pirate.

Mr. Lindsell thereupon discharged this accused, who was one of the men represented by Mr. Lo.

Further Evidence.

A cargo supervisor gave evidence as to certain movements of the pirates, and said he identified No. 20 accused as a member of the gang.

A fitter of the Sunning was called and said that he, the ship's carpenter, a ship's boy and a stevedore were forced by the pirates to help swing out, and later lower a boat on the poop deck.

WEATHER REPORT.

Yesterday's weather report and forecast from the Royal Observatory at 6.15 stated:—

The anticyclone has strengthened slightly. A V-shaped new depression lies between the Bonins and the Loochoos. Fresh to strong monsoon may be expected along the S.E. coast of China and over the N. China Sea.

Local forecast: N. winds, fresh, fine to cloudy.

They were ordered to accompany the pirates in the boat, but witness bolted and hid himself. There were about eight or nine pirates present then, and all appeared to be armed.

In reply to Mr. Lo, witness said he did not see No. 8 accused hiding in a boat. After the question of how long the case would take before it was closed had taken place, Mr. Lindsell remanded the accused, and adjourned further hearing of the case until tomorrow morning and afternoon.

OXFORD STREET LAND £3,000 A FOOT.

FOR EXTENSION OF OXFORD STREET SHOP.

An Oxford-street shop has just changed hands at a price of £3,000 for each foot of frontage, or just over 257 a square foot.

The buyers are Penberthy's, Ltd., women's outfitters, of 388-392, Oxford-street, who are about to enlarge their premises. To do so they have bought the next-door premises, a watch-makers' and jewellers' shop.

The full price for the deal is 253,000. The frontage is 17ft., the depth 54ft., and the area 918 square feet.

How expensive land is in the shopping districts of the West End is shown by the fact that in Piccadilly a shop with a 9ft. frontage has a yearly rent of £10 a square foot. In Regent-street 28 and 28 1/2 a square foot are rentals asked.

BETTER PROSPECTS.

PASSENGERS NOW FREE TO TRAVEL ON ANY BOAT.

CHANGES IN MILITARY ORGANISATION.

TAXES TO BE INCREASED 50 PER CENT IN SWATOW.

The a.s. Kinshan, of the Hong Kong, Canton & Macao Steamboat Company, returned from Canton yesterday with over 220 passengers which is considerably more than these vessels have been carrying for many weeks past. It is true that one hundred of the passengers were members of a Chinese theatrical company, but all were allowed to board the ship without molestation. The pickets have been withdrawn from the wharf and it is expected that, as a result, the passengers will increase rapidly during the next few days. In addition to the usual produce the Kinshan also brought down over 300 rolls of matting and several packages of silk goods.

The Tung On brought 865 passengers and nearly 3,000 packages of general cargo.

[FROM OUR CHINESE CORRESPONDENT.]

The rank of corps commander in the Kuomintang Army in Kwangtung Province is to be abolished by order of General Chiang Kai Shek, the Commander-in-Chief. Four army divisions will be stationed in Kwangtung and each is to be a unit commanded by a division general, reporting to the Commander-in-Chief direct. By this reorganisation, it is expected, no single militarist will hold power of serious consequence to the revolutionary cause in case of disaffection caused by outside influences.

The Kuomintang Army Headquarters in Hankow is wiring to Canton for more aviators. Only recently six Chinese returning from America offered themselves as aviators for service in the Kuomintang Army.

At last the military leaders in the Kuomintang have succeeded in gaining permission to appoint attachés to the several tax collection bureaux in Kwangtung to audit the accounts and supervise expenditure. At first Mr. T. V. Soong objected to this arrangement, but General Chiang Kai Shek has now yielded to the demands of the militarists.

M. Borodin is said to have advised comrades in Canton not to stage too large a demonstration against the Christians in Tungshan and other parts of Canton City on Christmas Day.

Shareholders of the Canton Water Supply Company, whose water plant in Tsengpo has been recently taken over by the Canton Municipality, are protesting against the alleged intention of the local Kuomintang to mortgage their property. It may be recalled that the plant was taken over by the municipality in order that reforms might be initiated. The staffs, however, over which the Municipal authorities appointed supervisors have been refusing to co-operate with the Kuomintang and for a time it was feared that the supply of water in Canton would be interrupted by a strike on the part of the men at the pumping stations.

Canton-Kowloon Railway.

The authorities of the Chinese Section of the Canton-Kowloon Railway are considering the possibility of restoring the former service of two express trains to Kowloon daily from January 1st next. So far, however, no official notice regarding the matter has been published.

Travellers have suffered considerable inconvenience during the last few days owing to a strike of cooks on board the passenger junks plying between Canton and the interior towns on the West River. The cooks would not allow non-union men to take their place and many passengers who expected to take their meals on board had to go without anything to eat.

Swatow.

The motor-bus service in Swatow is still unable to resume owing to the opposition of the ricksha coolies. The coolies are demanding that they should be granted their licences free if the motor-buses are allowed to continue. Canton ricksha coolies deny the reports current in Canton that they intend to go on strike in sympathy with the coolies in Swatow.

The Swatow Kuomintang Department of Finance has just issued a notice that all taxes within its jurisdiction will be increased by 50 per cent. beginning on January 1st.

LIMIT OF CALLOUSNESS.

BIG CANTON HOSPITAL PICKETED.

PATIENTS' SERIOUS CONDITION.

[FROM OUR CHINESE CORRESPONDENT.]

The Fong Pin (Convenient) Hospital, one of the largest Chinese hospitals in Canton, is now being put to the utmost inconvenience by a strike of nurses and other employees who have been forced to leave their work against their will by order of the union agitators. The result is that several hundred patients, some of them in a critical condition, are without care and attention, as the pickets have declared against the admission of non-union workers and will not permit any relief mission to be sent in. The authorities of the Hospital are helpless. They have referred the matter to the Kuomintang in the hope that the party leaders will be able to render some measure of rescue to the patients some of whom are dying for lack of food and attendance.

NOT ANTI-CHRISTIAN.

CHRISTMAS DAY DEMONSTRATION.

The anti-Christian demonstrations to be staged in Canton on Christmas Day, at the advice of Soviet agents in Canton, will not be termed "anti-Christian" but in support of a movement to exclude imperialistic culture and doctrines. A committee representing 62 organizations and consisting of 230 persons has been formed to attack imperialistic culture, and students in the Mission schools will be forced to participate in the movement against institutions of learning managed by Europeans.

To avoid trouble, some of the Canton Churches will only hold Christmas services for their own congregations, not extending the usual invitations to the public, which has been the usual custom in the past.

The anti-Christian Committee has its headquarters at the Dr. Sun Yat Sen University in Canton.

Strike Against Taxes at Wuchow.

The Hong Kong-Wuchow steamers on their homeward trip from Wuchow on December 19th were delayed for nearly a day by the general strike in Wuchow, where some 25 unions of workers demonstrated against any further addition to the miscellaneous taxes. During the demonstration some workers were arrested and the majority of their companions struck until those arrested for opposing the Kuomintang tax policy were released.

CRIMINAL SESSIONS.

THE "SAIKUNG" PIRACY.

The trial was continued yesterday at the Criminal Sessions of the five men charged with complicity in the murder of an Indian guard aboard the steam launch Saikung and the robbing of the passengers.

The Chief Justice, Sir H. Gollan, heard the case.

The coxswain, who stated on the first day of the trial that the deceased guard broke the butt of his rifle on the third prisoner was cross-examined at length by Mr. H. S. Lo, who defended the accused.

Witness was quite certain that one of the robbers fired at the guard as he was in a crouching position. The two other guards ran down the steps leading from the bridge and one of the robbers (the third prisoner) pointed a revolver at witness's head and made him obey his directions as to the course to be followed. When the Police launch was sighted, acting in accordance with instruction, he took the launch close in and the pirates boarded a fishing boat. The occupants of the boat in question objected to the "invasion," according to witness, but the robbers "overcame their objections."

The comrades of the launch also gave evidence as to certain passengers rushing to his office with the story of the robbery. Shortly after, one of the robbers came to the office and, threatened with a revolver, witness had no option but to hand over the keys of the safe.

A passenger on the launch replying to Mr. Lo under cross-examination, said that the Indian guards were not armed when the pirates appeared, and when the first shot was fired the arms were in the wheelhouse.

Mr. Lo submitted to witness that the deceased Indian guard was accidentally wounded in the fight by the other guards. Witness did not agree.

Mr. Lo: I put it to you that when he was accidentally wounded that the two other guards jumped overboard and disappeared—I did not see them disappear.

Re-examined witness said that when the fight was going on, he did not notice whether the butt of the rifle was broken or not.

The case was adjourned until to-day.

THE SHAUKIWAN MURDER CHARGE.

PRISONER'S DEFENCE OF DRUNKENNESS.

The Shaukiwai murder trial was continued before Mr. Justice Wood yesterday.

A fuki, who slept in the same room as deceased, stated that he was awakened by the prisoner on the night in question and went to buy him medicine as prisoner said he had stomach pains. When witness returned he was under the impression that prisoner and prisoner's brother (who also slept in the same room) were fighting. Witness saw an axe in one of their hands. As soon as he learned that an attack had been made on the deceased he fetched the master of the yard and the police were informed.

Dr. Craig recalled, said in reply to his Lordship that two of the wounds sustained by deceased might have been caused while he was standing, but he must have received the third wound whilst he was in a recumbent position. Witness further stated that he found that some Chinese medicine powder had been put on the wounds. All it did was to clot the blood.

A Big Meal.

A stallholder at Shaukiwai said that prisoner called at his stall at 10 p.m. on the night of the tragedy. He had two helpings of chicken, some roast meat and sausages, for which he paid $1.20. He also had a bottle, the contents of which he drank. Witness did not know if it contained Chinese wine. Ordinarily, said witness, prisoner called at his stall twice a week, but on those occasions he either had 5 cents worth of rice or 10 cents worth of congee. Prisoner seemed in a hurry that night. Ordinarily he took time to eat his food, but that night he gobbled it, and even left some behind.

Prisoner went into the box and said that he had got drunk earlier in the night, and remembered nothing more until he was at the Police Station. His mind was a complete blank as to what had occurred that night.

It had been thought to finish the case yesterday, but prisoner did not leave the box until 6.30 p.m. and his Worship adjourned the case until this morning, when it will be concluded.

CORRESPONDENCE.

TRAFFIC OFFENDERS.

[TO THE EDITOR OF THE "HONG KONG DAILY PRESS."]

SIR,—Under the heading of "Traffic Offenders" and Sub-heading, "Complainant and Defendant absent," you published in your issue of the 20th the suggested reasons for my absence from the Court, when a summons, issued by the Police Authorities on information laid by myself against driver of car No. 1008, came up for hearing yesterday afternoon.

The published information is not correct. Thus "Inspector Nicol further told the Court that he had just received a letter from Lt. Col. Lewis stating that he wanted the case withdrawn, and that he would not be appearing to give evidence." This is not the fact. I have never written to Inspector Nicol on any subject. Further, "When asked as to the reason (for complainant's withdrawal)." Inspector Nicol said that the driver of car No. 1008 was Lt. Sloane Stanley, and that possibly he might be a friend of complainant." This is not the fact. I do not know Lt. Sloane Stanley even by sight.

The reasons for my non-attendance and my desire to withdraw from the case, were conveyed to the Traffic Police Authorities, at Yaumati, on the morning of the 20th instant by me, and they are definitely not as stated above.

The reason for Lt. Sloane Stanley's absence, is best known to himself.

As the case has obviously been incorrectly reported, I should be glad if you will kindly publish this letter.—Yours faithfully,

ROBERT A. LEWIS, Lieut.-Colonel, R.A.M.C.

Hong Kong, December 21st, 1926.

[Ed. Note: We willingly publish the above letter, but it does not follow that the Police Court proceedings were incorrectly reported. Inspector Nicol is attached to Yaumati Police Station and has charge of all traffic cases. Therefore, he probably felt justified in stating that he had received a letter from Lt. Col. Lewis. Inspector Nicol suggested in Court a possible reason for Lt. Col. Lewis' non-appearance and this reason, as given by the Inspector, was reported in our columns.]

ALLEGED HIGHWAY ROBBERY.

VICTIM GAGGED WITH A PEBBLE.

A Chinese amah, in the employ of Mr. A. Keating, Superintendent of the Deep Water Bay Works of the Green Island Cement Company, has reported to the Aberdeen Police Station that she was robbed between Deep Water Bay and Aberdeen.

The amah left her house at five o'clock on Monday afternoon. As she was going down the hillside she was met by two strange men, one of whom caught hold of her by the neck and threw her violently to the ground.

The amah further alleged that she was forced to a dried up water course, "close by, and here she was tied to a tree and gagged with a pebble. She said she was robbed of all her personal jewellery, which she valued at $15 and also of her umbrella.

After the men had decamped, she said, she succeeded in freeing herself, and went to the Station to report.

THE TIENSIN ARRESTS.

KUOMINTANG PRISONERS TO BE DETAINED.

We are authoritatively informed, says the Peking and Tientsin Times, that the Kuomintang members, who are under detention and examination in Tientsin, are to be detained indefinitely. They are still in charge of the Provincial Police, and there appears to be no intention to hand them over to the Military. It is stated that none of the arrested persons is a student, and that many of them were without occupations.

The reason for their continued detention as given is that if they were released they would in all probability resume their activities and cause trouble in the locality.

THE DE-CHRISTIANISED GENERAL.

FENG A "FULL-BLOODED RED?"

Recently it was widely reported that Marshal Feng Yu Hsiang had refused to see his chaplain-General the Rev. Goforth, at Pooten, and had repudiated the Christian faith, a story which, according to reliable missionaries has been exaggerated. Writes Mr. Rodney Gilbert in the N.-C. Daily News.

Old missionary friends are still personally received with seeming cordiality, but they find that Feng Yu Hsiang has been saturated by the Moscow virus and is unable to comprehend anything but rabid anti-foreign points of view. The rest is that his Red affiliations are no longer belittled by his former foreign advisers here.

THE STATE OF AFFAIRS IN CHINA.

BRITAIN'S NEW POLICY.

SHANTUNG TROOPS ON THE MOVE.

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

Rugby, December 20th.

The contents of the memorandum handed by the British Chargé d'Affaires at Peking to the representatives of the Powers have not been disclosed, but it is known that the new statement constitutes another effort by the British Government to pursue a constructive policy in harmony with the spirit of the Washington Conference, but developed and adapted to meet the altered circumstances in China.

It is pointed out that the sympathetic attitude of Britain to Chinese aspirations for the revision of existing Treaties had become obscured owing to the absence of a Central Government in China, the existence of which was a necessary condition for carrying out the Washington programme.

In the spirit of the Washington Agreements, the British Government has now laid before the other Powers certain suggestions regarding the attitude which, in its opinion, should be adopted to the questions of the surtaxes, extra-territoriality and the revision of Treaties. While continuing rigidly to abstain from interference in civil strife, the British Government feels that the growth of national Chinese sentiment necessitates a careful review by the Powers of the whole position.

Regarding the Washington surtaxes, the British view is that the disposal of these additional revenues should be left for competent local Chinese authorities to decide.

HOW IT IS REGARDED IN LONDON.

Rugby, December 21st.

Until other Treaty Powers have had an opportunity of reading the British memorandum upon the Chinese situation, London official circles continue reticent as to its contents. The newspapers generally, however, welcome the move taken as an effort to clarify some aspects at least of an extremely complicated situation and to get back as far as present conditions allow to proposals made at Washington nearly five years ago.

Although it contains definite proposals particularly in regard to the surtaxes the British document is described here as a general exposition of the British attitude towards China rather than a concrete scheme for comprehensive settlement. It is emphasised that the memorandum must not be taken as a sequel to the recent conversations between Mr. Miles Lampson, the new British Minister to China, and Mr. Eugene Chen, the Cantonese Foreign Minister, as its composition dates prior to those meetings.

The Manchester Guardian says:—"There is no suggestion in the memorandum that regional recognition will be given to any faction. It is a firm principle of the British proposals that no attempt will be made by the Powers to intervene in China."

The Daily Chronicle recalls that the surtaxes proposed at Washington amounted to 2½ per cent. on ordinary merchandise and 5 per cent. on luxuries and says that the British view is that these might be now applied by each province in which they are collected, to its local needs. Such a solution, the Chronicle adds, would treat all China with impartiality. It simply enunciates the principle and leaves effective authority to carry it out.

SHANTUNG TROOPS CROSS
THE YANGTZE.

SHANGHAI, December 21st.

A message from Nanking, dated Saturday, says that Shantung troops have now crossed the river and are massed there in considerable numbers. Northern pickets are parading the streets.

The troops include 120 Russians, who are billeted in a hotel outside the city wall. It is reported that 3,000 Shantung troops have gone to Wuhu.

The general impression here is that General Chang Chung Chang's troops are replacing Marshal Sun Chuan Fang's men, and it is thought that the latter will proceed to the defence of Shanghai and Hangchow. The Chinese at Nanking appear to view General Chang's arrival with considerable apprehension.

[General Chang Chung Chang, has been Tapan of Shantung since early in 1925. He was Commander of the First Expeditionary Manchurian Army.]

NAVAL INQUIRY AT SHANGHAI.

CAPTAIN TELLS HIS STORY.

SECOND MATE'S SENSATIONAL
ADMISSION.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

SHANGHAI, December 21st.

"It was owing to their disobedience of instructions that the passengers lost their lives," declared Captain Simpson at the Naval Inquiry into the loss of the Lien-shing at the British Court this morning.

Captain Simpson also stated that he had made 68 trips between Tientsin and Shanghai without having an accident. He left the bridge at 2.13 a.m. on December 10th and went below. On returning at 3 a.m., he found the course had been altered. He went to get bearings at 3.50 but there was not any time for this as the vessel struck rocks 3 or 4 minutes afterwards. The second mate reported "rocks on the port bow."

The second officer, J. W. McCabe, stated to the Court that, contrary to the captain's standing order, he had not informed him of the vessel's course having been changed.

The hearing was adjourned.

NEW CARDINALS.

THE POPE'S ADDRESS.

Rome, December 20th.

His Holiness the Pope, at a Secret Consistory created two new Cardinals, Monsignor Ganba and Monsignor Lauri, Archbishops of Turin and Ephesus respectively, and he also preconised a number of Bishops.

The Pope, in an address, strongly denounced the persecution of Catholics and the church in Mexico where, he declared, the Government was incinerating and even killing pious ecclesiastics and slaughtering unarmed faithful while praying at the Sanctuary of the Madonna. The Pope, after rejoicing at Signor Mussolini's recent escape, deplored the consequent attacks on Catholics in Italy, and rejoiced that the Government had issued severe orders against violence.

BOLIVIAN TIN MINES.

"SUBSTANTIAL INTEREST" PURCHASED BY AMERICAN BANKERS.

New York, December 21st.

WAR DEBTS TO
AMERICA.COMMENT ON THE COLUMBIA
UNIVERSITY MEMORANDUM.LONDON AND NEW YORK PRESS OPINION.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, December 21st.

Commenting on the Columbia University War Debt Memorandum the Daily Telegraph declares that it is a most courageous document and emphasises that any Conference called by the United States—"and no other Power would think of calling it"—naturally would be welcomed by debtor nations. "We are confident the appeal which is based on a large and generous view of a most complex situation, will make steady headway. It is only the progress which is in doubt."

The Times recognises that the general conference advocated by the faculty of political science of Columbia University could hardly approach the subject of war debts without re-opening that on reparations and of throwing once more into the melting pot the fundamental provisions of the Versailles Treaty and the settlements thereunder. It considers that the real value of the Memorandum lies in the evidence it affords that a section of educated opinion in the Eastern States accepts the views and arguments continuously pressed upon America by her European creditors.

The New York newspapers are giving the Manifesto the foremost place, thus calling national attention to a topic hitherto left almost exclusively in the hands of the Government.

The New York Times declares: "This penetrating study of the entire matter by the Columbia authorities should be set down as an event which will have a great influence on changing the mental attitude and altering the international policy of the American people."

A BASEBALL
SENSATION."STAR" HITTER OF ST. LOUIS
CARDINALS "TRADED."EXCHANGED FOR TWO OF THE
NEW YORK GIANTS.

[REUTER'S AMERICAN SERVICE.]

One of the biggest deals ever made in the history of baseball was revealed tonight with the announcement of the transfer of Roger Hornsby, manager and second baseman of the St. Louis Cardinals; this year's champion baseball team, to the New York Giants.

Owing to failure to agree on salary terms—Hornsby insisted upon $30,000 a year with a three year contract—and a quarrel with the chief owner of the St. Louis Club, Hornsby was "traded" for two members of the Giant's team.

It will be recalled that only two years ago one club offered the Cardinals $50,000 cash for their star hitter.

The Giants have long been seeking for a counter attraction to Babe Ruth, the star of the New York Yankees, whose salary is $52,000 a year.

A U.S. NAVAL BILL.

TEN LIGHT CRUISERS WANTED.
TO COST £3,000,000 EACH.

WASHINGTON, December 20th.

A Bill has been introduced by Mr. Butler, Chairman of the Naval Affairs Committee, for the construction of ten light cruisers at a cost of $3,000,000 each, and has been favourably reported to the House of Representatives.

Mr. Butler, in introducing the measure, described it as being in line with President Coolidge's national defence programme. He declared that Britain, Japan and other countries were constructing large numbers of light-cruisers of 10,000 tons or under, which were permissible under the Washington Treaty.

HUDSON RIVER TRAGEDY.

ICE FLOES UPSET PASSENGER

33 PEOPLE PERISH.

New York, December 20th.

The bitter weather with which New York has been contending for the past fortnight has caused an unusual accident on the Hudson River, when a large launch, carrying workmen, was capsized by ice floes, ejecting hundreds of passengers into the icy water. All available craft were rushed to the rescue, but fourteen passengers are already known to be dead.

The death toll is now given as 33.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

PARIS, December 21st.

The report of the tests of the so-called "white spirit," a petrol substitute, which is claimed to be non-inflammable at temperatures below 85 degrees Fahrenheit and to which it is possible to apply a match without ignition, was read by the experimenter, M. Dumanoir, of the Academy of Science. M. Dumanoir claimed that aeroplane experiments showed the new spirit to be superior to petrol at 9,000 feet, though inferior on the ground level from the viewpoint of the maximum of engine revolutions.

NEW YORK SENSATION.

WEALTHY WOMAN FOUND SHOT DEAD.

SORDID AFFAIR.

New York, December 20th.

The fashionable Park Avenue district has been given a sensation by a tragedy involving two unrelated families of the same name Mr. R. G. Ingersoll, the famous agnostic, and Mr. R. H. Ingersoll, the watch manufacturer.

The latter's estranged wife was found shot dead in her flat, clad in a dressing gown and adorned with jewels worth $7,000 and clutching a revolver, while Wallace Probasco, the sixty-year-old son-in-law of Mr. R. G. Ingersoll, was found seriously shot, twice in the chest and once in the arm, lying near the telephone, with which he managed to telephone to his wife.

Probasco, who is now in hospital, is technically charged with homicide, but he and his wife claim that Mrs. Ingersoll shot Probasco and then killed herself owing to jealousy because Probasco wanted to break off their long friendship.

MEXICAN OIL LAWS.

BRIGHTER PROPECT FOR FOREIGN COMPANIES.

Mexico City, December 20th.

Representatives of various foreign Oil Companies have begun informal discussions with the Secretary of Industry, Commerce and Labour, with a view to reaching an agreement with regard to the enforcement of the Petroleum and Land laws.

The Secretary previously made a statement that the Government had not applied the laws retroactively and did not intend to do so, besides which the Mexican Courts would not sanction this. Referring to nine important Companies which had applied for the necessary concessions confirming their rights, the Secretary of Industry said these Companies know that our legislation does not only not attack their rights but is favourable to their interests.

"TESS OF THE D'URBER-VILLES."HARDY'S MASTERPIECE AT THE
"QUEEN'S."

A PICTURE WORTH SEEING.

A picture well worth seeing is "Tess of the D'Urbervilles," a splendid screen adaptation by Neilan, for Metro-Goldwyn, of Thomas Hardy's great masterpiece.

The universal appeal in the story of "Tess" is powerfully retained in the screen version, and one witnesses a picture in which the tragedy, sorrow, pathos, and ultimate joy in the story cannot but fail to reach every heart, just as much as it does in the book itself.

Apart from the faultless portrayal of the leading characters by Blanche Sweet, Conrad Nagel and Stuart Holmes, the picture is considerably enhanced by the beautiful surroundings in the Hardy-Wessex country in which the outdoor scenes were taken.

This picture will be shown again to-day for the last time and should not be missed. Also on the programme is a capital Gaumont news film, and a fine Prisma-colour picture of Torquay, the gem of the beautiful County of Devon, together with some excellent orchestral contributions.

Starting to-morrow, and continuing until the end of the week, is "The Man on the Box," starring the well-known screen actor, Syd Chaplin.

THE STAR THEATRE.

The Globe Trotters.

Dick Norton and his "New Globe Trotters" having concluded a successful season at the Queen's Theatre, are affording Kowloon residents an opportunity of hearing the latest that they have to offer in the way of light entertainment. To-morrow they open a short season at the "Star" Theatre, when an entirely new programme will be submitted.

The programme at the "Star" also includes the presentation of "The Great Divide," Reginald Barker's screen version of the famous American play by William Vaughn Moody. The story is an epic of the West; a powerful dramatic story of the elemental clash of a woman, typical of the repressed culture of the "East" and a man typical of the fiery, defiant, lawless spirit of the West.

The principals of the cast are Alice Terry and Conway Tearle.

Preparations are complete for the departure of the Air Minister, Sir Samuel Hoare, whose flight to India will inaugurate the new Egypt-India air route. The flight, on which Lady Hoare will accompany him, will commence on December 27th. Although Karachi will be the termination of the regular route to be operated in "Spring," Sir Samuel Hoare will fly on to Delhi. The biplane, in which he will travel, is similar to two others designed for the service, the first of which arrived yesterday at Naples. The second, after a good flight from Croydon, reached Marseilles yesterday afternoon.

FAMOUS MEDICAL RESEARCH

Rugby, December 20th.

Dr. Hugh Campbell Ross, the well-known research worker, has died from pneumonia while on his way home to England, and was buried at sea off Aden. He was at one time Medical Officer of Health, in Cairo and, under Lord Cromer's administration, started a campaign for the extermination of the mosquito. For the last eighteen years, he had concentrated upon cancer and since 1910 had been Director of the McFadden Research Foundation. In the course of his investigations he visited the Pitcairn Islands where cancer is rare in order to examine the methods of life prevailing there.

SIX ENGLISH MAGISTRATES
DISMISSED.SEQUEL TO ACTION DURING STRIKE.

There was an aftermath of the General Strike in England last month when in the Commons Sir Douglas Hogg (Attorney-General) informed Sir Granville Wheeler (C. Faversham) that the Lord Chancellor received complaints during the general strike and the subsequent labour troubles with reference to 61 magistrates. In four cases the magistrates concerned had been convicted, three were bound over, and one was discharged under the Probation of Offenders Act.

In 27 cases the Lord Chancellor had not considered it necessary to call for explanations of their conduct, and in 18 other cases he had received satisfactory replies to his demand for explanations, and had decided to take no further action.

In 4 cases the magistrates had been cautioned. Thirty-six had been removed from advisory committees of which they were members, and Six had been removed from the bench.

H.M.S. "VINDICTIVE"
CONCERTS.FIRST OF THREE GIVEN LAST NIGHT.

A BRIGHT ENTERTAINMENT.

Members of the ship's company of H.M.S. Vindictive gave the first of a series of three Christmas concerts at the Royal Naval Theatre last night. The programme will be repeated at the remaining concerts which will be given to-night and to-morrow night.

Divided into three parts, the programme is bright and much talent was shown by the artists contributing to the very lengthy, but pleasing and enjoyable entertainment.

The first part of the programme consists of individual items, including songs (sentimental and humorous), and with an amusing sketch.

Part two is made up of glee, songs, humorous interludes and a violin solo, and this brings to a conclusion the first half of an entertainment, in which 17 items have been given.

Part 3, the last part is exceptionally good, for there is provided thirty minutes of fun, introducing old sea songs and chautiques, which were well worth hearing and rich with humour. These were introduced during the supposed voyage of a ship appropriately known as the Skyhawk.

Before the performance commences and during the intervals, the band of H.M.S. Vindictive, under Bandmaster A. Eames, played some very fine selections.

There was an appreciative, though not a very large audience present last night, probably on account of the boxing tournament proving an irresistible counter attraction. The concert, however, is well worth hearing. As stated, it will be repeated to-night and to-morrow night, and will begin at 8.45. Owing to the length of the programme, it is impossible to mention the many who either contributed to, or assisted in the entertainment.

LAWN BOWLS.

KOWLOON DOCK INTER-DEPART-MENTAL FINAL.

The final of the Inter-Departmental Lawn Bowls Championship of the Hong and Whampoa Dock Co., Ltd., has been decided. The result of the match was a win for the Drawing Office over the Carpenters by the narrow margin of four shots, after a close and exciting finish.

The Carpenters, though without one of their players, Mr. D. Stahl, Superintendent, played an excellent game.

The teams and scores were as under:—

Carpenters:—C. Atkinson, E. Docherty, W. Greig and W. Henderson (skip) 19.

Drawing Office:—V. Ramsey, J. McIntosh, J. McLaggan, and W. Johnston (skip) 23.

SMALLER BALL FOR CRICKET.

COUNTY CRICKET CLUBS IN CONCLAVES.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE'S PLAN.

After considering various plans for helping bowlers in cricket matches, the Advisory Committee of the cricket counties, meeting at Lord's recently, decided that the use of a smaller ball is advisable.

A sub-committee, consisting of Lord Harris, the chairman, and two other members of the M.C.C. Cricket Selection Committee, and Mr. J. A. Dixon (Nottinghamshire), and Mr. T. A. Higson (Lancashire), and Mr. V. W. C. Jupp (Nottinghamshire), was appointed to go into the matter further.

This committee will also consider the question of less attention being paid to the preparation of wickets.

The tea interval on the third day of a match is to be abolished, and a suggestion by Lancashire for changing the system of scoring points in the county championship by allowing two points for a win and one each for a draw, the percentage principle to be maintained, was referred to a special sub-committee.

More Finger-Spin.

Mr. J. B. Hobbs, who holds the record for the number of centuries scored in first-class cricket, is in favour of a smaller ball. It would help the bowler in getting finger-spin, he said.

The laws of cricket at present stipulate that the ball shall weigh not less than 5½oz., nor more than 5½½oz. It must not be less than 9 inches or more than 9½ inches in circumference.

Motoring Notes:

A Weekly
Review dealing with matters of interest to all local motorists.—

On Top Gear—The Overland Whippet—Where Cars are Used—Malaya and China.

[BY AN OWNER-DRIVER.]

ON TOP GEAR.

In the humble opinion of more than one engineer in Hong Kong the car that is suitable for use in this island is one that will climb practically all of the way up to the Peak with a normal load on top gear. Especially is that true of any car owned by a Peak resident.

The problem is different in Kowloon. The gradients over the other side seem to be easier on cars. Probably a small car benefits from the fact that it has to run some distance out of Kowloon before it comes to a gradient. It has a chance to "warm up."

A few months ago the writer ran out to Tai Po on a small light car—a two-seater. We did the outward and the return journey on top gear all the way. It is practically certain that if the car had been fitted with a four-seater body and had carried four passengers, it would have failed to maintain top gear all the way up to the Peak.

Probably the favourite run for Hong Kong motorists is from the lower Peak Tramway Station out to Repulse Bay. The new road over the hill (Wong Nai Chung Gap) has an easier gradient, especially on the return journey, than the road via Pokfulam.

LOCAL GRADIENTS.

It is a long pull up from Aberdeen to the home of the priests at Pokfulam. The first hill has a good gradient and practically all cars can manage it on top gear.

It is the second hill, commencing near the junction with Jubilee Road, that is the difficulty.

The approach at that junction is very bad and the authorities would earn the gratitude of all local motorists if they would make improvements near that junction.

Ascending the hill—it is usually called "The Dairy Farm Hill," probably because it divides the Dairy Farm property—is difficult.

The road turns and twists and towards the top of the hill there occurs the worst gradient.

Very few cars are fitted with gradient meters. It would be of interest to know if that gradient really is the steepest in Hong Kong.

They may be something more steep on the Shaikwan Hill but it is doubtful.

CHANGE GEARS.

Many a driver hangs on too long to top gear. When the speed of the car is falling fast on a gradient it is wise to change gears some time before it seems necessary to do so.

Nearly all local cars when fully loaded must change gears at that last steep gradient on the Dairy Farm Hill. It (fully loaded) does not have to change down from top gear at that last steep gradient on the Dairy Farm Hill, then it is over engine.

Speaking generally, the petrol consumption, on the level road, increases with the size of the engine.

So that we came to the conclusion that our ideal local car should change gears at that last steep gradient on the Dairy Farm Hill. It should, however, not be compelled to change down to the lowest of three gears.

On the other hand the ideal local car should be able to do the first hill out of Aberdeen and a good deal of the Dairy Farm Hill on top gear.

THE LOSS OF POWER.

In our present stage of knowledge about mechanism tooth gears seem inevitable although we are sanguine that some genius, such as the designer of the Constatanescos car, will save the next generation from the defects of tooth gears.

When there is a direct drive from the engine to the differential there is a minimum loss by friction.

When we drive through the other gears we lose a considerable amount of power—probably twenty-five per cent. or even more—by friction, etc.

The nuisance of that is that the loss of power comes just at a time when we can least spare it.

We are making a bigger demand than usual on the engine in ascending the steep gradient for we are doing much more work when we have to lift the car as well as drive it over the road surface.

If we have to use a lower gear all the way up from Aberdeen to Pokfulam, or all the way along Stubbs Road to the Peak, we are using about twenty-five per cent. more petrol in the engine than if we were doing the same job on top gear with that same engine. We are also generating (in the lower gear) a good deal of heat due to excess friction.

It is the only story of the happy mean for the sake of economy. Most of us are so poor that we cannot afford to be extravagant. Of course, we should love to have a Daimler "Double Six" that would take any hill in Hong Kong on top gear with five up, but we can't afford to buy the car and some of us could not afford to run it even if some one appreciated us enough to present us with such a car.

We would like to buy the car that can carry five people in comfort, that is economical to run and that will not cost us much in the way of repairs.

By all means use the gears, but don't run several miles a day on a low gear. Don't be in a desperate hurry when you are not in top gear.

A LOST OPPORTUNITY.

Robinson Road is now opened for cars. The big wash out of the road right above Glenelg has been repaired.

Alas! the dangerously narrow bridge adjacent to that piece of road remains just as it was.

For years some of the local advocates of road improvements have been begging the authorities to widen that bridge.

It would not cost a great deal. It would, of course, be a nuisance during construction.

When the road was closed owing to the disappearance of a part of it near to that bridge it seemed almost that providence was helping the motorists. Alas! the old bridge remains. We must not take visitors along that road lest they see the new road and the old bridge.

THE OVERLAND WHIPPET.

SOME IMPRESSIONS OF A TRIAL RUN IN HONG KONG.

The triumph of the last two or three years, in the motoring world, has been the production of an inexpensive light car.

It is waited in eager expectation for the appearance of a light car that, according to British tax rating, had a seven horse-power engine. Some critics said that the engine was not powerful enough even for a light car. On the other hand the car was a remarkable production—good value for the price demanded.

America and Europe waited to see whether the Overland "Whippet" cars would be all that those associated with the design and production of them believed them to be. These cars are now on the market not only in Europe and America but in Hong Kong.

A LIGHT CAR.

For many months past we have seen advertisements in the local journals of these cars. We had to be patient for, although it was hoped to see them in Hong Kong some weeks ago, the first "Whippet" car available for inspection only arrived here a few days ago.

Almost as soon as it arrived the writer took it for a trial run. Just the usual trip round to Repulse Bay; one run via Pokfulam and the other over the hill and the Wong Nai Chung Gap. No consumption figures were taken—it was just an introduction. The car was so charming that it was a case of affection deepening acquaintance continued.

These are the first impressions of one who has driven all sorts of cars during an experience of a quarter of a century.

First of all, the car is light. It looks quite a big car, but in actual fact it weighs only 17 hundredweight. A light weight tells its own story at the end of the year when you count up the expense of tyres. It also stands to reason that you use less petrol in propelling a 17 cwt. car than you do in propelling a car that is three times as heavy.

A POWERFUL ENGINE.

Most of the cars that weigh less than 20 hundredweight are fitted with engines of about 10 to 12 horse-power, British tax rating.

This car is fitted with an engine of 15.8 horse-power, British tax rating.

Thus the second impression is that the car is powerfully engined.

There are, in Great Britain, many engineers who advocate the use of the 10 horse-power engine and the light car. They claim, rightly, that it is quite powerful enough for the level road and when the car comes to a hill, there is the gear box—use it!

That is quite sound in its way. Conditions in Hong Kong are not the same as conditions "at home."

On the island the amount of hill climbing that must be done is abominable.

Consider the case of Jones (or Robinson) who lives on the Peak. He wants a car that will climb about 1,500 feet twice, and sometimes three times a day, with a minimum of trouble to the driver.

He can't do it with a car with an engine rated at 15.8 horse-power. A few weeks ago the writer tried it with four up on a light car with an engine rated at between 10 and 11 horse-power. He found that the car could do it "on top" over parts of the journey but he had to "change gears" frequently.

An explanation of what that involves is given elsewhere. For the time being the writer gives it as his considered opinion that it is essential for any one who wishes to run up to the Peak twice a day to have a car that will do the journey on "top" gear.

That is the great secret of the popularity of the American car in Hong Kong—the powerful engine that saves continual gear changing. In that respect the "Whippet" scores considerably because of the powerful engine.

ECONOMY.

Some day, perhaps, the writer may be in a position to give figures on this subject. At present he can only repeat what he was told; that was that this car will run 35 miles to the gallon of petrol.

That statement was made in all good faith and no doubt "Whippet" cars have done 35 miles to the gallon.

Not in the ordinary daily wear and tear running in Hong Kong? was the comment on the above assertion. It is the same with all cars.

When the salesman says that a 23 horse-power engine (British rating) will give you a consumption of 32 miles to the gallon, ask him if he will pay up your petrol bill for any excess consumption!

He is probably repeating statements made by the makers. And they are giving figures obtained under ideal conditions. You never do run your car under ideal conditions!

Don't expect the impossible—viz., ideal conditions—in Hong Kong. So we will leave out petrol consumption figures for the time being, except to say that it is probable that, in the daily wear and tear use of a car in Hong Kong, the "Whippet" will give you as good, if not a better, petrol consumption than any other five-seater car in the Colony. Also, much better than a very large number of cars. For there are cars that cost a great deal for petrol. Eight miles to the gallon is a luxury for only the very wealthy people.

THE RICARDO HEAD.

What appealed greatly to the writer was the Ricardo type of cylinder head, which is incorporated in the four-cylinder engine of the "Whippet" car. Ricardo is a great engine and the cylinder head that bears his name ensures better combustion than the ordinary type.

A refinement that is found only on the high priced cars (with this exception) is pressure lubrication—not only to the crankshaft bearings but also to the connecting rods.

The car carries five people in comfort. It is amazing that the makers can afford to fit Gabriel "Snubbers" but they do. These "Snubbers" ensure easy riding over rough roads.

The car looks larger than it actually is for it measures only 12 feet long 5 1/2 feet wide overall.

Four wheel (internal expanding) brakes are fitted. The Perrot Bendix three shoe system is used. That requires very light pressure to put the brakes on.

On several occasions these brakes were put on by the writer and were found to be easy in action and very satisfactory.

The body of the car is all steel. The finish is lacquer. The colour of the car, to be seen in Hong Kong is blue.

The local price of the car is gold $850. It is a car that should create a demand for itself.

It spells the eventual doom of the local "ricksha." It is light and so easily handled that it is especially to be recommended as a car for a lady to drive.

WHERE CARS ARE USED.

We have received from London, "with the compliments of the Society of Motor Manufacturers and Traders, Ltd., a booklet of about 150 pages dealing with "The Motor Industry of Great Britain." It contains many very interesting items.

The introduction states that "the need for the collection and dissemination of authoritative statistics and information with regard to the motor industry of this country is evident."

Some of the facts collected are encouraging for those of us who wish to see machine power replace man power in China.

In 1911 there were 47,000 cars in use in Great Britain. In 1925 there were 350,000 cars in use. The figures for commercial vehicles are, for those years, 35,000 and 330,000 respectively.

Up to May 31st, 1926, nearly a million cars and motor vehicles had been registered.

Incidentally it may be mentioned that the population of Great Britain has been steadily rising from a total of 39,348,000 in 1908 to 43,787,000 in 1925. Has the motor industry done something to support the increased population?

In 1908 there were 800.7 persons in Great Britain for every motor vehicle registered. In 1925 there were 45.8 persons per vehicle. The following table makes us wonder where Hong Kong or Shanghai would figure in a list of towns and cities of Asia in which motor cars are used.

Country.	Vehicles.	No. of Persons per Vehicle.
United States	19,845,000	5.8
Canada	719,718	12.0
New Zealand	60,203	12.5
Australia	297,311	18.5
Great Britain	360,000	45.6
France	703,499	61.3
Germany	252,808	247.9
Italy	113,000	368.2

Perhaps the ratio of the number of people to the vehicles is a measure of the wealth of the country. It must also be remembered that gasoline is found in the United States. It is cheap there.

MALAYA AND CHINA.

In the statistics showing the world consumption of motor vehicles (compiled by the Society of Motor Manufacturers and Traders, Ltd.) it is stated that there are 17,330 private cars and 4,278 commercial vehicles in British Malaya.

The corresponding figures for China are 10,023 and 2,347.

The figures for Hong Kong given are 1,231 and 134. The percentage increase in private cars for Hong Kong in the twelve months that ended December 31st, 1925, is only 4.1 but for commercial vehicles the figure is 20.0.

One would have expected India to have more than 80,290 private cars and 9,864 commercial vehicles. It is noticeable that Hawaii has 22,000 private cars and 5,300 commercial vehicles.

CONTINENTS.

Of the world consumption of motor vehicles, considering the five continents, we see that America takes 36.5 per cent. Europe takes 10.5 per cent. Australasia 1.8 per cent.

Asia is almost negligible with 0.8 per cent., but Africa is worse with 0.4 per cent.

The total consumption of motor vehicles for the whole world is given as 24,248,793, of that total the British Empire absorbs 8.8 per cent.

The WHIPPET

... sets a new pace

The Overland Whippet will turn in a 34-foot circle... park in a 14-foot curb space. A specially designed steering mechanism makes steering easy.

Compare other cars by these standards

35 miles on an Imperial gallon of petrol.
55 miles an hour—5 to 30 miles in 13 seconds.
Four-wheel brakes—stops in 51 feet from a speed of 40 miles an hour.
Turns in 34 foot circle—parks in 14 feet of curb space.
5 feet 9 inches high—lower gravity centre—greater safety.
Modern-type body—provides more inside room than other light cars.

The Overland Whippet represents a combination of the most advanced American and European engineering thought.

It is a complete new car... designed and built as a unit... not an old-fashioned, reconstructed chassis. For over three years, Willys-Overland engineers in America and Europe have been developing it.

The distinctive body lines frankly resemble the smartest cars of America and Europe. It has a beautiful finish of polished Appenzel blue lacquer—with nickle-plated lamp-rims and radiator shell. Low-slung... rakish... graceful as a Whippet... that's the proper way to describe it.

New Mechanical Standards

In high-torque motor of 3 1/2-inch bore by 4 1/2-inch stroke, is by far the most efficient light car engine made in the U. S. A. It actually develops more horsepower per cubic inch of piston displacement and pound of car weight than any other light four-cylinder engine.

It has an 80-lb. torque... this means greater pulling power... the ability to master hills, sand and mud, without shifting gears.

You have never seen a car like it before. In fairness to yourself drive this car... prove to yourself that no other light car is comparable to it.

GHOST WHO WAS STABBED.

1.30 A.M. JOKE ENDS IN DEATH.

ENGLISH SENTRY'S SHOCK.

James William Smith (36), a marine who was stabbed while posing as a ghost, died in the Royal Marine Infirmary, Deal, three weeks after his prank.

Smith played his tragic joke in the East Barracks in the early hours of November 6th. Covering himself in a cloth, he approached a sentry, John William Charles Moat, and received two bayonet stabs.

In his evidence at the inquest, Moat, who is only 17, said: "It was a dark night... I heard footsteps coming from the direction of the disused burial ground situated in the barracks. I then saw a white object moving and coming directly towards me, and in a loud voice the object called out, 'Sentry!'"

"Who Are You?"

"I took it for a ghost as I could only see a white sheet moving. I approached the object and challenged it, calling 'Halt! who are you?' Receiving no reply, I came to the on-guard position and repeated the challenge."

"I got no reply; instead the object came on moving its arms and hands underneath the sheet. I gave the challenge for the third time, and attempted to blow my whistle to summon the guard, but suddenly the white robed figure rushed at me and fell across the bayonet point. I pulled the bayonet out from him quickly."

The ghost then hit me on the chin, and as I closed with him my rifle and bayonet and whistle fell to the ground. In the struggle the sheet came off, and I could see a head of hair—and then I realised that the ghost was a human being."

"He then ran away, and I chased him, but could not catch him. I went back and recovered my bayonet, rifle, and whistle, and close beside these I found a white sheet and a Marine's cap. I took these articles to the guard room. Beyond shouting the one word, 'Sentry!' the ghost uttered no other sound whatever."

A sergeant said that Smith dashed into the guard room at 1.35 a.m. on November 6th, and said, "Sergeant, the sentry has stabbed me." He had evidently been drinking heavily, but was not drunk. When the sentry entered and saw that the injured man was one of his mess mates, he said: "I am sorry, I did not know it was you."

Sentry not to Blame.

Surgeon-Commander Kelly said Smith's wounds had healed, and in his opinion the cause of death was pneumonia following exposure on the night of the incident. A verdict of "Accidental death" was returned by the jury, who added that they did not consider that Moat was in any way to blame.

PRINCE OF WALES ON BUILDING HOUSES.GOOD ARCHITECTURE A BUSINESS PROPOSITION.

ABOLITION OF SLUMS.

The value of well-designed houses, not merely from the public point of view, but also as a business proposition, was emphasised by the Prince of Wales at the annual dinner of the Royal Institute of British Architects at the Guildhall.

Mr. E. Guy Dauber, president of the institute, who was in the chair, said the Prince on his estates had set a most admirable example in all the work he had carried out. He had carried on a high architectural tradition in all the work, and it was an example that might be followed by other landowners in this country.

In London, on his estates in Kennington, large areas of slums had been cleared away to be replaced by comfortable, convenient and attractive dwellings. (Cheers.)

In his reply the Prince said he could not escape from architecture, be it good or bad; we were sheltered by it, surrounded by it and affected by it every day of our lives.

"Good Business."

"If our architects are dull and uninspired," he went on, "we are condemned to live in ugly, ill-constructed buildings, or to go about our daily business in mean, ill-planned cities, towns and villages."

"If, on the other hand, our architects can give us surroundings which are both good to look at and good to dwell in there is bound to be a wonderful difference in our general well-being and in our whole outlook on life."

"Our president has said some very nice things about the architectural policy pursued on my Duchy estates. This policy has not, however, been followed solely for the good of the general public; it is also a very sound business proposition."

"We have always found that the erection of cottages or block of flats was cheaper when designed by an architect than if we merely adopted a stock pattern."

"A Masterpiece."

"We have found, too, that a well-designed, simple building invariably gives greater pleasure to those who live in it, and creates in them a real pride in their home."

"So I should like anybody who contemplates the erection of a building, great or small, to beware of the fallacy that it is good policy to economise on the architect's fee. Speaking simply as a landlord, I can assure him it is not."

During the evening the Prince presented the Royal Gold Medal for Architecture to Professor Ragnar Ostberg, of Stockholm.

"By universal consent," said the Prince, "Professor Ostberg's masterpiece, the new town hall in Stockholm, is one of the greatest buildings ever produced by human genius, and we are proud that our medal should be in his hands."

£90,000 STATION FOR EPSOM.

A new station costing £90,000 is to be built at Epsom. It will be welcomed by the crowds that go to the famous Downs for the Derby.

At the present time the town has two stations quite near to each other, Epsom and Epsom Town. An entirely new station is to be built on the site of the former, with two island platforms, each 650 feet long and 35 feet wide, protected over part of their length by an awning 300 feet long. There will also be a loading dock 200 feet long for dealing with horses.

The Epsom Town station will then be used exclusively for goods traffic.
